ANTI-ALIEN BILL NOT SIGNED

Contrary to Expectation, Gov.
Johnson Delays Final Action on Measure

HOUSE PASSED MEASURE
LATE SATURDAY NIGHT

Vote Was 72 to 3 For—Bryan
Looks for Referendum; Gates
Makes Felicitous Address

SACRAMENTO, May 5.—Governor Johnson failed today to designate what he believes a "reasonable time" for signing the Webb anti-alien land law, passed in the assembly on Saturday night. It is understood he will wait for Secretary Bryan's arrival in Washington to permit of an administration conference before he signs the bill. Only a grave emergency or a referendum can prevent the act from becoming a law, in the belief of the administration leaders here.

BILL PASSED ON SATURDAY
NIGHT BY VOTE OF 72 TO 3

SACRAMENTO, May 5.—The anti-alien land bill, drafted by Attorney General Webb at the direction of Governor Johnson and administration, and previously passed by the senate, passed the assembly Saturday night by an overwhelming majority, the vote standing 72 to 3. All proposed amendments were defeated as they were offered, debate lasting till nearly midnight, when the bill was passed, putting it up to Gov. Johnson for signature.

Secretary of State Bryan ended his mission and visit to the California legislature on Saturday afternoon, making a farewell address before a joint session of the two houses in which he expressed his appreciation of his cordial reception by the legislators, and incidentally intimating that he expects the people of California to vote the referendum on the anti-alien land bill, the passage of which by the assembly he anticipated. Response was made by Senator Lee Gates of Los Angeles, who speaking for the state said:

"This legislature appreciates the honor that has been done to this state by the interest shown in the visit of the Secretary of State. We realize that his coming to co-operate with us marks an era in American politics. It brings the Federal government into close touch with the individual states. On the part of the legislature, I wish to express our profound appreciation and gratitude for the interest taken by the National government in a problem confronting the state and to assure the president that, even if we may differ with him, we do it with the profoundest respect for his opinions and those of the Secretary of State. And if we feel impelled to depart from that advice, we do it with respect for that advice. I propose and desire on the part of this legislature to thank the president and his secretary for their assistance, and I express the hope that this visit may be a forerunner of further activity of the national government in assisting the states in their work."

JAPAN WILL DEMAND
HAGUE ARBITRATION

WASHINGTON, May 5.—It was learned today from a high authority that when Secretary Bryan returns, the State Department will receive a formal demand from Japan for an immediate reference of the protest over the California alien land legislation to The Hague for arbitration.

Pasadena Will Try Government By Commission

PASADENA, May 5.—Mayor Thum surrendered the city government to R. L. Metcalf and four other commissioners at noon, the new administration being Pasadena's experiment with the commission government.

Each commissioner will devote his entire time to the city's affairs and will receive $3000 annually.

The new plan closely follows the Des Moines system. Mayor Thum has been a unique mayor. A multimillionaire, he turned over his $1500 yearly salary to his assistant, an expert accountant, besides hiring another expert accountant to aid the efficiency bureau. He labored 15 to 18 hours in the mayor's office each day. Although owning an automobile he traveled by street car to and from his office, believing the office of mayor should be conducted with simplicity.

MAN KILLED BY CHARGE IS THAT AN ELECTRIC MRS. CLAYTON CAR INSANE

Isaac W. Parsons of Santa Ana Met Death at Sunset Beach Yesterday Afternoon

HE WAS VISITING WITH HIS RELATIVES

Victim of the Accident Had Lived in Santa Ana for Twenty-six Years

Isaac W. Parsons was instantly killed at Sunset Beach yesterday afternoon when he was struck by a Pacific Electric car going about thirty-five miles an hour. Parsons lived in Santa Ana twenty-six years. For about twelve years he has had a peanut and soft drinks stand at the corner of Sycamore and West Fourth streets. He lived with his brother at 462 West Fourth street.

Yesterday Parsons visited a niece and nephew at Sunset Beach. There are two or three theories as to how the man happened to be struck by the car. He had been talking to his nephew about a new building and stepped across the track to get a better view of the building. He started to re-cross the tracks when he was struck. It is thought that possibly he misjudged the speed of the car and thought he could cross in front of it without danger. Another idea is he did not notice the car at all. Still another is that he became confused. He has always had a dread of electric car accidents.

Parsons was 82 years old. In his early life he was a sailor. He came to California in 1858 by way of the isthmus. He leaves two brothers here, David and William. The inquest will be held at Mills & Winbigler's parlors this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from the same place. Death was instantaneous. Both legs and one arm were broken. The back of the man's skull was crushed and his forehead cut.

PLAY STAGED ON MOUNT TAMALPAIS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—A new page in California outdoor dramatic history was written yesterday when 1200 spectators made a pilgrimage to the top of Mount Tamalpais to witness the first play ever given on a mountain top.

About fifteen University of California students and their friends, led by Roy Silent of Los Angeles, presented an ancient miracle play, "Abraham and Isaac," and the comic Malvolia scenes from "Twelfth Night." The play was given on the slopes of the peak, more than 2000 feet above the sea, with San Francisco bay, the sea and the bay cities in the distant vista. No scenery went with the play, both acts being given on the ground for which they were written.

She Was Cutting Hole in Pavement—Tongue-Lashing Followed Interference

TROUBLE STARTED LONG TIME AGO

Werdin Says That Woman Threatened to Kill Him; Hearing Wednesday

Mrs. W. H. H. Clayton of Orange was arrested today on a charge of insanity. The arrest came soon after Mrs. Clayton with coal chisel and hammer began cutting a hole through new pavement put down on North Glassell street at Orange, her avowed purpose being to see if the pavement had been laid to specifications. The complaint charging insanity was sworn to by E. R. Werdin, the contractor who laid the pavement. The complaint alleges that Mrs. Clayton threatened to kill J. W. Morrison and Werdin, that she talks in an incoherent manner and imagines that she is a detective.

Mrs. Clayton has been a resident of Orange for thirty years. Her husband, W. H. H. Clayton, has been one of the leading citizens of that city for years. Mrs. Clayton's difficulties with city officials at Orange began two or three years ago. At that time the city trustees were preparing to put in sewers. Mrs. Clayton had fought the administration bitterly. Her accusations have been made not only by word of mouth but in doggers, published and signed by her.

A week ago last night she went before the city trustees and asked to be allowed to cut a hole in some new pavement in front of her property on North Glassell street. She declared she thought that Werdin had not lived up to the specifications. She said he had used river sand when the specifications call for sharp sand. She said she did not believe the pavement was full seven inches thick, and she wanted to cut a hole in it to see. The permit was granted. After she went home, the trustees revoked the permit.

This morning Mrs. Clayton decided to cut the hole anyhow, permit or no permit. She had chiseled a hole about five inches deep by eight inches square when City Marshal Warner, Street Inspector Buchanan and Street Superintendent Dalton appeared. The last two named were given a dressing-down, Buchanan coming in for an extra share.

Werdin then appeared, and demanded that the woman be arrested. The city marshal told Mrs. Clayton that it was against the city ordinance to cut a hole in the pavement without a permit, and notified her to desist and appear before the city recorder tomorrow. Mrs. Clayton desisted, and was a her husband's office when Jailer Boynton and his wife, the matron of the county jail, arrived on a summons by telephone that had stated that Mrs. Clayton had a revolver and had threatened to kill Werdin. Werdin said he was going to swear to a complaint charging Mrs. Clayton with insanity. She was taken to the county jail, and there Werdin's complaint was served. She had no revolver when arrested.

At 1:45 o'clock Mrs. Clayton was arraigned before Judge West. She declared that she had been making things hot for the city officials of Orange, but that she could bring plenty of witnesses to prove that her mind is clear. She declared emphatically that her accusations are not mere trumped-up charges, and that she can prove what she says.

Mrs. Clayton said that her conversation with Morrison was two years ago, and she denied that she had threatened Werdin. She said she had told Morrison she would "fill him full of holes." She said she did not mean that literally.

The hearing on the insanity charge was set for 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, and on her promise to return to Orange and not to enter into any controversy with anyone over the matter she was allowed to go.

SQUATTERS DECLARE THEY ARE PREPARED TO PUT UP HARD FIGHT FOR THE LAND

Land They Claim Is Government Land Includes 500 Acres of Irvine Ranch As Well as 800 Acres on Whiting

Squatters not only have settled upon about 800 acres at El Toro between the county road and the Santa Fe but also on about 500 acres of land of the Irvine ranch at the point where it joins the Whiting ranch. The squatters declare that they have been at work on the matter for ten years, and are prepared with all kinds of documents, data and attorneys to fight the thing through the courts to a finish.

Half a dozen tents scattered along the grain fields and in apricot orchards are a part of the plan of operations. According to inferences left by some of the squatters, Francis J. Heney is to be one of the attorneys for the squatters.

A government surveyor named Owens went over a portion of the El Toro country two years ago. The squatters declare that his report strengthens their position.

The claims of the squatters, who seem to be an organized crowd from Los Angeles, include two pieces of land. One is the west end of the Rancho Canada de Los Alisos, which was an original grant bought by Dwight Whiting a quarter of a century ago. Much of that land is now in the hands of purchasers from Whiting. L. F. Monahan has 120 acres included. He notified the campers to move their tents from his property, and they refused. Tents have been erected in Juan Gless' apricot orchard and other tents in Harvey Swartz's orchard. The claims include Capt. Huddy's apricot orchard also. The squatters declare that the west line of the old grant lies near the Santa Fe railroad and not at the county road, and that the government never gave title to the land on which they have filed.

The 500 acres on the Irvine holdings are in an angle of the ranch at the south side, adjoining the old Whiting ranch line and northeast of the Acuna holdings. The squatters have pitched camp at an old pepper tree, near which years ago a man known as Old John had a house. The squatters say that years ago when the boundary line was up for settlement between the Whiting and Irvine interests some 500 acres was included in the Irvine boundaries at a point where the survey seemed uncertain.

Many of the El Toro people think that the squatters are running a bluff. Others feel certain that nothing but a long, hotly contested lawsuit will settle the matter. Many legal points will be involved. Granting that the land is government land, one point is that the government has never thrown this land open to settlement, and should it now be thrown open those who hold possession by reason of being innocent purchasers from a sub-divisor of land bought from a holder of a grant would have prior claim to the squatters.

There has been some talk of proceeding against the squatters under the trespass law. That, however, seems less likely than proceeding by an injunction suit, which would put the matter entirely in the civil courts. Owners of property at El Toro are said to have been here Saturday consulting attorneys concerning the matter.

TARIFF BILL IS LABOR LEADERS NEARING END OF HELD AS IN IN HOUSE CONTEMPT

Likely to Pass Wednesday; Long, Bitter Debate Looked For in the Senate

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The tariff debate was resumed today in the house. Representative Underwood predicted the passage of the bill on Wednesday. The final paragraphs of the sundry schedule were first considered. The income tax is programmed for tomorrow.

LONG FIGHT IN SENATE OVER TARIFF BILL IS CERTAIN

According to announcement Saturday night, the long weary debate on the tariff bill in the House will be reached Wednesday. The measure will then go to the Senate, practically unamended, save in a few minor details and there the real fight will begin.

That the battle of the Senators over the various schedules will be of long duration and that it will cause lengthy and bitter debate is a foregone conclusion. There is keen antagonism over the free wool and free sugar features of the Underwood bill, and the dissatisfaction of certain senators from wool and sugar producing states, most of whom are Democrats, is expected to take concrete form.

There was little fear expressed by those close to the administration to-night that these senators would bolt the party but it was thought not unlikely that Senator Simmons' estimate of six weeks for the final passage and adoption of the Underwood bill by the Senate might be exceeded.

Humphrey of Washington, taunted the Progressives opposing the Underwood bill, saying:

"It is easy to serve two masters in the cause of righteousness when one knows how. It is a matter of public brief that this party, influenced by no interests and coerced by no bosses, should disagree on the tariff bill. Is it possible that the 'people's appointed' may differ?"

Hulings of Pennsylvania here interrupted, saying: "I should like to inquire what the gentleman from Washington ate for breakfast."

It is announced a letter of recognition from King Alfonso of Spain will be presented next week.

WORKS FLAYS POWER OF TRUSTS

Says Nation's Solons to Blame For Unrest Existing in the Country

URGES STRINGENT LAW FOR BENEFIT OF PEOPLE

Scored Inadequacy of Wages; Says Women and Children Suffer Most

WASHINGTON, May 5.—In a lengthy speech in the Senate, Senator Works flayed the power of the trusts, declaring that the responsibility for the popular unrest existing lies with the nation's lawmakers. He asserted that the ruling wealthy class is arrayed against the citizens laboring for a living, and declared that legislation must effect a change. He suggested the following stringent laws, adequately enforced:

The excluding of vicious and ignorant immigrants.

Legislation providing for reasonable working hour and wages.

National regulation of prices and wages of corporations and individuals doing an interstate business.

State laws covering the same range.

Works criticized Andrew Carnegie by inference, declaring that municipalities accepting libraries accepted charity.

"The accumulation of millions by a comparatively few," Works said, "is accomplished through the toll of underpaid employees struggling for a mere existence. Incongruous as it may seem, a distinguished gentleman carrying on one of the investigations of wage conditions now going on, often spends more for one meal than the weekly allowance of many employees. Thousands of unfortunates are not paid even eight dollars weekly. Evidence tends to show that the average wage of department store employees does not exceed $3 per week. It is almost impossible for these women and girls to subsist, while the proprietors grow rich. Women and children are the greatest sufferers. A woman equally competent cannot command wages equal to that of a man in the same position. The same discrimination exists in public employment, even in charities commercialized and carried on as business. They are doing more than any influence to make a nation of mendicants and beggars. Take a concrete example:

"One millionaire conceived an easy way of ridding himself of his millions and exalting himself by giving libraries. The municipalities accepting them made themselves objects of charity. A self respecting community should be ashamed."

In concluding, Senator Works declared there must be no dominating class. The equality of men must be made a reality. He asserted that the Democrats now have an opportunity to restore the government to the people. If neither of the present parties does this, Works said, a third party will arise, not a "one-man party or one founded on hatred and disappointed ambition."

WILSON TO WIRE ATTITUDE ON ALIEN BILL

Gov. Johnson to Sign on May 12; Commerce Department to Be Wider in Scope

WASHINGTON, May 5.—In the weekly conference with newspapermen, President Wilson declared that he plans to widen the scope of the Department of Commerce to develop American trade abroad and remove the suspicion that the department is a political adjunct.

The President is considering the California anti-alien bill. Governor Johnson has informed him that he will not sign the bill until May 12. The President will wire his attitude after Secretary Bryan returns. Japan has not yet formally protested, although a protest is expected.

President Wilson is not disturbed over the reports that certain Democratic and Republican senators have secured sufficient votes to put a duty on wool and eliminate the free sugar provision from the tariff bill.

THINK MISSING MAN IN BUTTE

Fullerton Friends of Delaney Believe He Left While Out of His Mind

FULLERTON, May 5.—It is believed J. C. Delaney, district manager of the Randolph Fruit Company, will be located soon. He had arranged to ship oranges from San Dimas to Montana. It is reported a representative of the Randolph company wired a house in Butte that on account of the disappearance of Delaney that shipment would be delayed. A wire came back this morning that a man giving the name of J. C. Delaney had called on some firm in Butte yesterday and talked about an orange shipment, but had left before the firm got any further information. Later, the firm received the telegram from California. The Butte concern now hopes to locate Delaney in a few hours. It is said Delaney withdrew $35 from the bank on Monday before he disappeared in an automobile Tuesday. Delaney is well known here. His friends still believe he is suffering from temporary lapse of memory brought on by an accident he experienced some months ago. It is stated his accounts with the company are straight.

BIRTH OF COLONEL BOGY.

Origin of the Term That Has Become a Part of Golf.

"Who is Colonel Bogey?" That is the first question usually asked by the recruit when he steps on the golf links. Professional and veterans never tire of explaining that he is the imaginary opponent, with the fixed score for each hole, but few can tell how the name originated.

It generally is accepted that an Englishman was first to set forth the idea. In December, 1890, the scratch score of the Coventry course was taken, being the score that a good scratch player would take to each hole of the grounds, making no mistakes, but also taking nothing nor being fortunate with any special flashes of brilliant play.

At the time they called this "the ground score," and later several tournaments were given under the system. The name, however, followed soon, and its origin was a curious one. Dr. Thomas Browne, R. N., went out to play against a friend, Major Charles A. Wellman, and they agreed instead of playing directly against each other to play against the ground score and decide their match accordingly as each fared in this way. It so happened that about the same time the bogey song was being sung by the late E. J. Lonnen at the London Gaiety theater, and everybody else was singing it. The words of the refrain were:

Hush! Hush! Hush!
Here comes the bogey man!
So hide your head beneath the clothes.
He'll catch you if he can.

There was the idea in golf. "He'll catch you if he can!" And it flashed across the mind of Major Wellman when he was playing this game and was getting "caught" by the ground score. "Why," said he to his friend Browne, "this player of yours is a regular 'bogey' man." A considerable piece of golf history was made in that chance remark, for "bogey" was from that moment established in golf. Some time later "colonel" was added.—Exchange.

A WALRUS ON LAND.

The Awkward and Bulky Creature Is Almost Helpless.

As might be expected, a walrus is about as helpless on land as a canal boat. It is with no little difficulty and much hitching and floundering that he drags his huge bulk upon a sandy shore even with the boosting he gets from behind by the breakers as they roll in and dash against him.

His hind flippers are of little use on land, and on sand or pebbles, where his front flippers do not hold well, the labor of floundering forward is so great that he never stirs beyond the edge of the water and usually lies with his body half awash, with the salt spray dashing over him like torrents of rain. On solid rock or ice he gets along much better, and often a herd will spread several rods back from the water's edge.

The females and younger walruses have far less development of neck to lumber them and therefore enjoy more freedom of motion than the old males, who actually seem a great burden to themselves. These creatures are strictly social in their habits and always go in herds, whether traveling, feeding, fighting or resting ashore. In the days before the slaughter of all living creatures became a ruling passion in the breast of man the Pacific species inhabited the whole of Bering sea and strait in herds which often contained thousands and even tens of thousands of individuals.

Gave Himself Away.

A man who is steadily employed finally had a day off and decided to go fishing, taking his luncheon with him. When he reached the creek he discovered that he had dropped the lunch packet somewhere on the road and hastened back to look for it. Presently he met a husky negro, who was looking happy and picking his teeth.

"Did you find anything on the road as you came along?" asked the gentleman.

"No, sah," answered the negro. "I didn't find nothing. Couldn't a dog have found it and eat it up?"—Everybody's.

Cleopatra's Pearl.

Most persons know the story that is told of Cleopatra to illustrate her luxurious habits of living—that she dissolved in her wine a precious pearl. No one seems yet to have questioned what must have been the effect upon the drink, but scientists scoff at the possibility of such solution. The fact is pearls are not soluble in wine. The most powerful vinegar affects them slowly and never entirely dissolves them, for the organic matter remains behind in the shape of a spongy mass that is larger than the original pearl.—New York Press.

TWELVE RUNS AGAINST ONE

Santa Ana High School Had Easy Victory at Anaheim Saturday

Score: S. A. H. S. 12, Anaheim 1. It can be said without stretching the truth that the Anaheim baseball nine needs a pitcher. The team shows lack of team work in nearly every position and as for batting, it is not much better. It is believed if it had a good pitcher the team would take more interest in baseball and come to the front in a hurry.

The jinks on the Santa Ana High School is dead. It met a mournful death Saturday and from all appearances it ought to stay dead. Now for a successful crack at Orange and one at Fullerton and the pretty Little Hill-Carden Co. trophy will find its home in Santa Ana for at least a year.

Although Santa Ana walked all over the Mother Colony team the game was on the blink. There was nothing to it. The only real interesting part was when "Bill" Warren started to blow up in the fifth inning, but good fielding prevented anything dangerous from happening. After the fifth Carver was put in and believe me, there is some pitcher.

The easiest thing of the day was pulled off in the eighth inning when Santa Ana scored seven runs from hits. The boys had the Anaheim team so flustered it didn't know where to throw the ball. There was nothing to it.

All the fellows played a good game. Brown was right there on the flies. Carrillo kept his eyes open more than usual and had more "pep." The lineup:

Santa Ana		Anaheim
Warren, Carver	P	Webb
McGaffee	C	Elliott
Smith	1B	Spencer
Carrillo	2B	Hutch
Carver, Brown	3B	Herbert
Duhart	SS	Pannier

A PERSISTENT ABBE.

Romance of Mountain Road Building in the Pyrenees.

G. L. Freeston in "The Passes of the Pyrenees" quotes the story of Felix Armand, cure of St. Martin-Lys, who pierced a road through the magnificent Gorge de Pierre-Lys in order to bring prosperity to his poverty stricken village. The cure himself marked out the route, "hanging like a spider from the end of a rope over the awful precipices of the Pierre-Lys. After five years' incessant toil the workmen reached the huge mass of rock which blocks the gorge near Belvianes." Still he bravely incited his parishioners to persevere until in 1781 the tunnel was pierced which still bears the name of "Le Trou du Cure." The revolution stopped the work, but after the reign of terror the cure set to work anew.

"A pity the man should be a priest," said Napoleon when he heard of Armand's heroic efforts. "I would have made him a general in my army." The cure's personal bravery was great. Once when a mine was about to explode a muleteer was seen riding round a corner. The priest instantly sprang out and extinguished a slow match just at its last inch. Armand was made an abbe, but he declined to leave his flock and was buried at St. Martin-Lys with the cross of the Legion of Honor on his breast.

LEGENDS ABOUT DEW.

Curious Beliefs as to Its Origin and Varied Powers.

In many places dew is looked upon as tears of the angels and of the souls in purgatory shed on account of the sins of human beings upon earth, and dew is collected to be used to cure certain diseases, especially those of the eyes, freckles, baldness, cramps, open wounds and cuts, rheumatism, skin diseases, burns, etc.

The virtues of dew as a beauty wash are also well known, remarks the Journal of Religious Psychology. One legend tells how by licking the dew off the plants on a certain morning when all the birds drink it one can learn their language.

Another folk belief is that "naked or with only their shirts on the witches at the time of the new moon collect the dew from the grass with bark sieves. By this means they deprive of their milk the cows that have been pastured on the grass, and as soon as their sieves are full of dew they know that their pots at home are well milked.

The Polish people of Wologrowitz call the dew on which the birds are supposed to feed patasle mleko—I. e., "birds' milk."

An Example of Daring.

During the hottest fighting in the Shipka pass the leading battalion of the Russian General Dragomiroff's division recoiled before a hailstorm of Turkish bullets. The general was a very stout person and had the appearance of a peaceful German professor. But when he saw his men recoil he dismounted and walked slowly to and fro along a ridge swept by the enemy's bullets. He was a hundred yards in advance of the men, occupying the position they had abandoned. After staying there for awhile without being touched he shouted back to the battalion: "What are you doing, you geese? Did you think there was danger here? I don't find any!" The men responded with a roar of cheers, doubled up to him and charged so fiercely that the Turks were forced to retreat.

Right and Left. The old English words "right" and "left" have come into more and more general use, and that, too, with the help of other than English people. For some years the words of command have been changed on the ships of a German transatlantic line. Instead of ordering a change of course by the old terms, "starboard" or "port," as the case might require, the same orders are now given by the shorter word "right" or "left." The change was made in the German navy at an earlier day.

It was not long ago that the English word "larboard" was used where we now use "port." There is no difficulty in seeing that two such words as "starboard" and "larboard" were unfit for their use, as they sounded too nearly alike. They were also too long. There is need of short, sharp words, which are easily distinguished. Often there is no time to correct an error, and a mistake is fatal. "Right" and "left" are short and sharp enough. If they differed more in sound they would serve all the better.—St. Louis Republic.

Up Against the Judge.

He was a Scottish advocate, and in his pleading he had several times pronounced the word "enow" for "enough."

"Mr. —," the judge remarked at length, "in England we sound the 'ough' as 'uff,' not 'enow.'"
"Verra weel, ma lord," continued the self possessed pleader, "of this we have said enuff, and I come, ma lord, to the subdivision of the land in dispute. It was apportioned, ma lord, into what in England would be called pluffland—a pluffland being as much land as a pluffman can pluff in one day, and pluffman—"

But his lordship could not withstand the ready repartee and burst into a laugh, saying:

"Pray proceed, Mr. —. We know 'enow' of the Scottish language to understand your arguments."—London Tit-Bits.

Geography of Blushing.

"Dogs blush," said a hunter. "Look at Carlo. I'll frighten him, and you'll see him blush plainly. Dogs blush in the tail."

He pretended that he was going to whip his hunting dog, and the animal showed the whites of its eyes in fright, while the skin of its white tail was, sure enough, suffused with blood. The tail blushed vividly.

"Horses," continued the huntsman, "blush in the ears, especially in the left ear. Cows and sheep blush just above the fetlock. Watch that spot on a cow. When she blushes there it's a sign she's nervous. Move the milk pail then, for she is likely to kick it over."

"Cats and mice and lions and tigers blush at the roots of their antennae, or whiskers."—New York Tribune.

Rain From a Cloudless Sky.

When rain falls from a cloudless sky it is generally believed that the moisture has been brought by the wind at a great elevation. In the south Atlantic it has been known to rain for more than an hour while the sky was entirely free from clouds. In the island of Mauritius it is not at all uncommon for rain to come from a cloudless heaven. Slight showers fall during the evening when the stars are shining brightly. It is thought by some that these showers are the result of particles of ice formed in the higher region of the atmosphere melting and falling. Others attribute it to currents of warm and cold air traveling in opposite directions, with the result that the latter condenses some of the moisture in the former and causes it to fall in the form of rain.

Where the Strain Was.

Among the ancestors of Wendell Phillips were several Puritan clergymen. Perhaps it was a push of heredity which made him, at five years of age, a preacher. His congregation was composed of circles of chairs, arranged in his father's parlor, while a taller chair, with a Bible on it, served him for a pulpit. He would harangue these wooden auditors by the hour.

"Wendell," said his father to him one day, "don't you get tired of this?"

"No, papa," wittily replied the boy preacher; "I don't get tired, but it is rather hard on the chairs."

Superstitious.

"He was the most superstitious card player I ever saw."
"Yes, and he got so superstitious here lately that he doesn't play cards at all now."

"Is that so?"
"Yes. He suddenly discovered that there are thirteen cards in each suit."

Proof of It.

"Well," remarked the boxer, as he walked the floor with his first born, "some of my enemies have said that I couldn't put a baby to sleep, but I never believed it till now."—Week's Sport.

OFFICERS OF EBELL CHOSEN

Anaheim Society Held Annual Business Meeting Last Saturday

ANAHEIM, May 5.—The Anaheim Ebell Society held its regular monthly meeting Saturday afternoon, in the Odd Fellows Hall. A large number of ladies were present and a very pleasant time was enjoyed. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—Mrs. Ida Tipton.
First Vice President—Mrs. Ida Dutton.
Second Vice President—Mrs. Geo. Terry.
Corresponding Secretary—Miss Kate Rice.
Recording Secretary—Miss Alice Grimshaw.
Treasurer—Mrs. C. E. Chamberlain.
Curator—Mrs. F. C. Spencer.
Librarian—Mrs. Grim.
Directors—Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Angell.

After the business of the day was transacted an enjoyable program was rendered. A charming vocal selection was given by Miss Brown, musical director of the grammar schools, a piano duet by Mrs. Goodale and daughter, Helena, and Miss Evelyn Finney gave one of her splendid readings.

Mrs. Dr. Johnston entertained the members of her Sunday school class, Saturday afternoon, at her beautiful home on East Broadway. The afternoon was enjoyably spent at games. One of the most interesting as well as merry features of the afternoon was a contest in which the young ladies' abilities in the art of millinery were tested. Each girl was given a roll of crepe paper, the color of the dress she was wearing, a paper of pins and a pair of scissors, and was instructed to make herself a hat, any style she preferred. Amid much fun and laughter so many lovely hats were fashioned that it became a difficult task for the judges to decide which one was best. After much discussion Miss Elva Stark was declared winner, receiving as a prize a dainty hat pin. At 5 o'clock a delicious lunch was served. The hostess was assisted by Miss Juanita Powers. The guests were: Misses Adele Howard, Erma Steadman, Grace Bliss, Johanna Jesurun, Hazel Kemp, Elva Stark, Mildred Ratkin, Ruth Lemon, Ruth Coons, Margaret Flagg, Lucile Krause, Hazel Weidner, Edith Simpson.

BOOSTER MEETING AT EAST NEWPORT

EAST NEWPORT, May 5.—The semi-monthly meeting and dinner of the South Coast Improvement Association was held during last week at the East Newport Cafe, with an attendance of twenty-two, including nearly every member of the executive committee, and several invited guests, among the latter being the city fathers of Newport Beach. Reports were made on the extensive improvements planned, progressing and in effect in this vicinity.

An Unexpected Conclusion.

A mistress was summoned in a London court for having dismissed a servant girl without due notice. The defendant pleaded that the servant was so voracious that she could not keep her in food. The judge after hearing the evidence inquired of the defendant, "Will four and sixpence a week keep her?" "Not nearly," replied the lady. "Will 6 shillings?" continued the judge. "No; that would not keep her," replied the defendant, feeling that in the judge's hands her case was gaining strength. "Now take care," said the judge, "and answer cautiously. Will 7 shillings?" "It takes 8," said the defendant. "Very well," said the judge. "Then you must pay her 8 shillings a week as board wages for one month."—London Mail.

Good Intentions.

"I do my best," said Mr. Clumzie, "to scatter sunshine and encourage a spirit of patience and cheerfulness, but somehow I always go wrong."

"What has happened?"
"I met a friend who looked a little gloomy, so I said to him: 'Cheer up! Nothing is as bad as it might be. Every cloud has a silver lining, and you only make trouble worse by thinking about it.'"

"Didn't he respond?"
"No. He simply said: 'Don't bother me. I've got the toothache.'"—Washington Star.

Heredity.

"Cute little cuss," said Slabsides, gazing at Hawkins' baby, "but why the dickens do you suppose he's trying to get his toes into his mouth all the time?"
"Takes after me," said Hawkins. "He's trying to make both ends meet."—Harper's.

Explaining It.

"There is such a queer smell after the automobiles here besides the gasoline."
"I guess it must come from the road scorching."—Exchange.

"They know not their own defects who search for defects in others."—Sanskrit Proverb.

Opportunity Is Ever Present

In a sense every man regards New Year's day as a new beginning in his life. But every day, every hour, holds this opportunity for every man; namely, that if he has failed up to that moment he may at that moment begin anew. The opportunity to resolve to begin anew is present. How to begin may not be apparent, but rest assured that to every man and woman resolved to do his best, opportunity will come. Perhaps it will come all the quicker if sought. There is no greater untruth lying around as a stumbling stone in the world today than the statement that opportunity comes but once.

Of course opportunity for material success—money opportunity—is not the highest form of opportunity, but it is a mighty good opportunity to embrace. Save your money, open an account with this bank and be ready for any and every opportunity that comes your way.

UP TO COMMITTEE TO NAME SOMEONE TO GO TO MEETINGS

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, has notified members of the Good Roads Committee of that body of the action taken at the meeting at Westminster last Wednesday night. Metzgar's letter says:

"At the Westminster meeting April 30th, a communication was read from four citizens of the county, calling attention to the alleged fact that the highway commission had selected engineers, and had overlooked good men in Orange county, who were familiar with lines, corners, etc.

"This brought on general discussion and testimony that some of the work was costing more money than it would under local engineers familiar with the county, and resulted in the adoption of the following resolution:

"The good roads committee is instructed to appoint a sub-committee of one or more to wait upon the County Highway Commission at each meeting and report back to the Associated Chambers, this sub-committee to use diplomacy and work in harmony with the highway commission for the good of all concerned.

"The following comprises the good roads committee for the ensuing year: Gustave Stern, chairman; A. S. Bradford, F. H. Case, J. L. McBride, F. R. Aldrich, W. O. Hart, H. A. Wassum, H. B. Little, W. H. Bentley.

"Yours very truly,
"J. C. METZGAR, Secretary."
D. C. Piskey of Orange, a member of the highway commission, on Saturday said: "As far as I, personally, am concerned, I thoroughly approve the action of the Associated Chambers of Commerce in appointing a committee to keep in touch with the highway commission. The commission meets on Wednesday of each week and I would be glad to have such a committee or any other citizens of the county attend the meetings."

TREE EUGENICS, PLAN OF EXPERT

A. D. Shamel Says Only Pedigreed Fruit Should Be Grown In California

If you are going to plant fruit trees or crops secure the pedigrees and known ancestors for two or three generations back of the buds, says the Los Angeles Examiner.

This is the unique plan presented yesterday for the best culture of trees and plants by A. D. Shamel, expert of the Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, in a speech before the members of the Southwestern Order for the Advancement of Agricultural Teaching in the auditorium of the Los Angeles High School. Shamel's plan is tree eugenics.

Shamel told his audience that much better trees can be secured from scientific breeding, and the breeding of trees with known ancestors and pedigrees with good fruit, than methods generally used. He produced charts, pictures and diagrams to prove his assertions.

Several other speakers gave interesting talks on topics concerning agriculture at their all-day session.

John H. Norton, formerly director of the Riverside experimental station, who followed Mr. Shamel, said he had experimented along the lines Mr. Shamel suggested and found it to be a very good and worthy plan.

KINGS WILL MEET IN A CONFERENCE

King, George, Czar and Kaiser to Discuss Internationally Important Topics

LONDON, May 5.—If nothing unforeseen should take place, there will be a meeting of monarchs before the end of the coming summer that will possess considerable significance, and may have a far-reaching effect upon the future relations of the powers of Europe.

Negotiations are now proceeding for King George, the Kaiser and the Czar all to visit Queen Alexandra and the Empress Marie of Russia at their villa on the shores of Klampenborg bay, about half an hour's distance from Copenhagen.

While this gathering will be of a family character, it is certain that many topics of international importance will be discussed. The suggestion for this meeting first originated with the Empress Marie, one of the keenest students of international affairs. It is possible to find, and her efforts to bring the meeting about has been warmly supported by Queen Alexandra.

Seaside Home for Sick And Crippled Children To be Opened in June

Los Angeles Times: A seaside home for ailing and crippled kiddies—the first of its kind in Southern California—will be opened in June on the ocean front between Newport and Huntington beaches.

Here the Tiny Tims and Jenny Wrens, whose "backs are bad" and whose legs are queer, will have a chance to breathe the healing and invigorating air of the ocean. The children are to be given boat rides and fishing trips, and will enjoy, many of them for the first time, all the healthful seaside joys. Little ailing ones from the stifling courts of the city, from the orphan's homes, from the streets and byways, are to be gathered up and deposited in the wholesome sea air. Little cripples whose only view of the great outdoors has been gained from wistful peeps out upon crowded and noisy back streets, will taste the joys of the free, fresh open. A nurse and matron will be hired to care for them.

The home faces the strand, and will accommodate about fifteen children at a time. These will be taken in relays of two weeks each. Children of the institutions and those whom the Associated Charities recommend will be among those to enjoy the home's privileges.

The Committee of the Seaside Home Fund of the Associated Charities established the home. This committee consists of Mrs. George H. Cross, chairman; Mrs. H. W. Trowbridge, Mrs. N. E. Wilson, Mrs. Augustus Hine and S. K. Sewall.

A committee of women a year ago donated $5000 to establish this home. This sum has been laid in the bank, drawing interest, until now. The house was formerly owned by a gun club, but has been remodeled to suit the needs of the children.

The New York Independent in its "Survey of the World" department has the following interesting mention of one of the pace-making activities of the Los Angeles school system as carried on in the Hollywood high school:

"The girls of the Hollywood High School, in the suburbs of Los Angeles, Cal., are being given a course in practical plumbing during this school term. The girls are delighted with the innovation, many of them being more interested in the plumbing course than in their other studies."

"To some persons it may seem strange that soft hands whose most strenuous work heretofore has been the embroidering of college pillows, or making attractive middy suits, should turn with so much enthusiasm to iron wrenches and dripping, splashing hydrants, but the girls argue that a capable housewife should be able to repair the leaks in her kitchen, if necessary, and read her water meter intelligently to know whether her bills are correct or not."

"Their teachers agree with them. And the result is a course that will enable California housewives to stop escaping gas and clean congested sinks and know the difference between the use of granite and aluminum to save unnecessary expense, and generally to extend their ability as expert housekeepers."

"That is the principle on which these energetic schoolgirls are proceeding in their course of soldering pipes and inserting washers and other branches of practical plumbing. And the large and growing number of names enrolled in the class is the proof of its extraordinary popularity."

FRENCH LENIENT TO JAMES THORPE

Only Official Duty of Olympic Board Members to Cause Vote for Revision

PARIS, May 5.—The French members of the Olympic board which meet Tuesday and Wednesday at Lunette have expressed themselves as being very much in sympathy with James Thorpe, American athlete whose case will be taken up at the Lunette meeting. Were it not for the absolute necessity of weeding out all professionalism from Olympic sports, it is said that they would be inclined to be lenient with the Indian champion. Only a strict duty will make them vote for the revision of the official classification of Stockholm winners. They are said to put credence in sporting circle gossip here to the effect that there were many other Olympic winners just as guilty of professionalism as Thorpe, and that "they didn't all come from America."

GIFTS RECEIVED AT THE EXHIBIT ROOM

Mrs. D. G. Cole presented the Chamber of Commerce with some lilies, ferns and Japanese iris; E. M. Conkle a bunch of large lemons and bouquet of roses; Mrs. T. C. Dietrich, a bouquet of snowballs; Mrs. W. S. Yingling, a bouquet of roses; H. R. Roper, a bouquet of snowballs, and Fred Parsons a large young onion.

According to word received here, "Tiny" Barker has been farmed out by the Chicago White Sox to the Wausau team in the Wisconsin-Illinois League. After leaving Los Angeles with the White Sox, Barker was put through a course of training by one of the best pitchers of the White Sox staff. It was generally understood that he would be put out to some small league for this season as a part of his course of training.

MOVING SPIRIT OF MAY

A custom formerly existed in a good many cities by which May 1 was an annual "moving day," a period when leases terminated and the floating element of the population sought new abiding places. Probably this does not prevail to any general extent now, but at least May is a kind of moving month.

The springtime is a period when the housewife, emerging from the narrower restraints of winter, longs for more ample quarters. It is a time when the hopes of men rise, when there is usually some business expansion. Many new schemes are launched in spring that mean the uprooting of families. The moving van is always bustling in May.

The freedom with which the American transfers his home spot involves many losses. It tends still further to disintegrate family life, already much shattered by looser ideals of marriage and otherwise. At each abandoned hearthstone something is left behind. The scattered members of the family never feel that attachment to each other that formerly existed toward the old homestead.

To be born and grow up in a house rich with family associations, is a heritage that today falls to comparatively few. Such a home, mellow with time, attaches to one's life a dignity and a security that neither money nor education can supply.

Many civic losses attend the nomadic national habit. The family that departs from the old location may have been ever so loyal to town, church, and school in its old surroundings. When it moves into some urban block or three-decker tenement, almost all sense of public responsibility is lost.

However, this mobility and fluidity has become a national habit. Whatever damage it does, it develops a keen witted race of people, a susceptibility to new impressions, and it destroys provincialism. With such compensations, one must be satisfied.

CERTIFYING QUALITY

Advertised goods are goods the quality of which has been certified. The public looks at a certified check. It knows that good money has been put into them, so that the merchant has faith that they will prove satisfactory.

The business world is full of cheats and frauds. The public has many times been disappointed, even in buying goods of merchants supposed to be reliable. Hence its attitude is one of great suspicion, not so much perhaps of the honesty of the merchant, as to whether he really knows his goods and has tested them out.

Under these circumstances, advertising is the determining factor that convinces the questioning mind. The buyer argues that if the seller has faith enough to subject his goods to the scrutiny of advertising publicity, if he has faith enough to spend money telling people about them, he must have tried them out thoroughly, and must know positively that they will give satisfaction. It regards any knowing deceit under these circumstances as inconceivable.

As a result of this public attitude, the merchant understands that his faith and reputation are staked on the fulfillment of his advertising pledges. That is why modern advertising is so very truthful. A lie in an advertisement would mean a peck of trouble, while a lie over the counter would be known to but one person. When a merchant disposes of a line of goods through advertising, he is careful to let the public know what the real value is, so that there shall be no come-back.

Time buying advertised goods is buying under the white light of public scrutiny. The merchant goes shares with you on your purchase. You have bought his wares, but he has paid down the cost of the goods and the cost of the advertising to buy your satisfaction. When you buy under these conditions, you know something about what you are getting.

PRESIDENTIAL DIGNITY

A typical American incident occurred a few days ago at the Washington ball grounds, when some unconventional "fan," noting that President Wilson did not rise with the rest of the crowd at the seventh inning, shouted, "Stand up, Woody." The president laughed and rose, while the crowd cheered.

Now if some cockney Londonite shouted "Stand up, Georgie" to the King, he would be likely to find himself surrounded with a mob at the national expense for a time sufficient to give him ample chance for reflection.

Traditionally the president is surrounded by much ceremonial. Uniformed lackeys guard the doors to his residence, and only on rare occasions does he open his house and give all comers a chance to shake hands. But when he goes abroad the barriers that half a century of precedent has built around him vanish before an easy-going democracy.

And this familiar attitude seems to be growing. Mr. Cleveland and Mr. McKinley were rarely hailed by affectionate diminutives. But Mr. Roosevelt was "Teddy" or "Ted," and Mr. Taft was "Bill." A scholastic reserve may attach to Mr. Wilson, but he seems to be "Woody," just the same.

Serious minded persons deplore these familiarities, which they feel detract from the honor in which the nation's first office is held. Possibly to a slight degree. And yet this slightly boorish informality is but a part of the national horse play. The American people reverence power and honor, and when it comes to a crisis, they grit their teeth and fight. In other moments of life, they can scarce restrain the national sense of humor. With difficulty they keep their faces straight while the masters of ceremony are going through their stage play. The president has to take his share of the national April foolery, and no one who ever holds the office will be likely to care.

OPPOSITION IS LARGELY POLITICAL

At the meeting of the Tri-counties Reforestation committee yesterday to discuss the water commission bill, some rather interesting facts developed. One of the San Bernardino men who opposed the measure declared just before the meeting that "Governor Johnson is an anarchist, and the most dangerous man the state has ever had in a public office." Another critic of the bill from San Bernardino said, in effect, that he would be glad to vote for a resolution condemning everything the legislature had done or might do. An Orange county delegate who joined with San Bernardino in its opposition, said that he had never made a mistake for 70 years and was sure he could not be in error regarding this bill.

Such candor and broad-minded fairness as this surely fitted these gentlemen in an eminent degree to act as judges in passing on the merits of the bill.

Very largely the opposition to this measure is political. The leading attorneys of the power companies are

Dr. Baer's Address

Any young man who was present at the cornerstone laying ceremonies of the new polytechnic high school and heard that magnificent address delivered by Dr. John W. Baer, president of Occidental College, must have been very much impressed. It came from the heart of the speaker and hit where it was intended to hit, at the hearts and consciences of those present, especially the boys and girls.

Every young man in this city would have been benefited by hearing that address, especially those interested in the promotion and expansion of Y.M.C.A. work in the city and county. It would have stirred him up to the realization that there is work for him to do in guiding his fellow students and would have filled his heart full of hopefulness for the future.

Dr. Baer was at one time a very prominent Y.M.C.A. worker and so he knows by past experience how to handle his subject so as to get the maximum result. It was the first time I had had the privilege of hearing Dr. Baer speak, but his talk so impressed me that if ever the opportunity comes again I will bend every effort to be present.

Such heart-to-heart talks (for such was Dr. Baer's address) do more good and are worth more to whom they are addressed than a host of subjects on the school curriculum. Dr. Baer can be congratulated upon bringing such an inspiring message to the young people who assembled there at the cornerstone laying.

NEWSY NEWS FROM NEW YORK

(By Carlton Ten Eyck.)

NEW YORK, May 5.—When craving for diversion of a flippant character, it behooves the visitor to this polyglot city to drop down to West street, where the docks of the great steamship lines are strung, and get acquainted with Rev. Philip J. Magrath, the "Fighting Father" of the water front. If in the mood—and he is always in the mood to do battle for the cause of honesty, justice and decency Father Magrath may permit you to trot around his "parish" with him. If this rare treat befalls you and you come through alive, you will have seen something to tell the folks back home.

Hardly a night passes that the rubicund, genial and kindly eyed priest does not find it necessary, or at least congenial, to supplement his religious instructions with a wallop to the jaw of some seven-foot stevedore or water front crook. His wallop, by the way, contains the soporific power of a ton of chloroform. The recipient has the feeling—on awakening—of having been slapped by an elephant. Not that Father Magrath goes about looking for trouble—far be it from such. "I'm a peaceful man of the church," he will tell you solemnly. "And I detest having any trouble." But once in a while it is necessary to point out some beautiful language which won't be understood. Father Magrath also insists that he is human in his method of visiting the wrath of Providence on his recalcitrant parishioners. "I hate to hurt them," he said, "so I always try to wind up any argument with one punch. Usually I make my man understand the blessedness of the faith and the advantages of decent living with one right hook to the jaw."

Father Magrath is in charge of St. Peter's Union for Seamen. Although he is a Catholic, his union is non-sectarian. It is more like a club than a mission. Downstairs the seamen and longshoremen gather around checker boards and innocent card tables, and upstairs they receive the benefits of services conducted by their pugnacious parson. And woe to any unfortunates who attempt that former favorite pastime of the water front—putting the meeting "on the bum." When Father Magrath first went to West street there was no tougher section of the city, and few as hardened and wholly wicked in the world. The "rough necks" who came ashore to squander their earnings of two trans-Atlantic voyages or the fruits of months of service on tramp steamers in a night were bad enough, but it was the swarm of crooks and gamblers who gathered to entice the unwary mariner into crooked deals of all sorts that made the district notorious for murder and assault.

The advent of Father Magrath, the smiling, jaw-jawed young priest, caused but little excitement at first. No one attended his meetings and his cloth respected as it should have been. Father Magrath looked around his "parish" silently for a few weeks and then decided that the only way to make these water front gangs step around to be converted was by force. So one night he started out to "clean up" his district, alone and unarmed. They tell still on the street of that glorious first night of battle and gory display. He went from saloon to saloon sorting out the biggest and worst looking men at the bar and urging upon them the error of their ways and the advantages of the life religious. When scoffed at he laid down his prayer book and rolled up his sleeves. There were usually just two blows struck. One was when the doughty priest's doughty fist landed on the jaw of said offender. The other was the echoing wallop when said of-fighting it because its provisions will curtail their opportunity to grab water power sites and will compel them to pay the state a small fee per horse power for the power they develop. The fee would be small, but it promises to add something over a million dollars a year to the revenues of the state. The Los Angeles Times, the San Francisco Chronicle, the Oakland Tribune and other papers notoriously subservient to the interests of the great corporations, are raising a hysterical howl against the bill as an "administration measure."

A measure that excites such opposition as that is pretty likely to be decidedly in the interests of the people of the state. The bill is commended by the character of the opposition to it; it ought to be popular because of the enemies it has made.—Riverside Press.

fender's cranium collided with the floor.

Then Father Magrath went about a systematic circuit of the crooks which led through dark alley ways where the human sharks waited to pounce upon one of his beloved seamen when that jovial rover of the deep should be wallowing in the trough of too deep a land sea. The police had made sporadic but futile efforts to clean out the nests of thieves and tin-horn gamblers, thugs and lodging house crooks that filled the water front district. Father Magrath simply waded into a crook whenever he saw one, ordered him to get out of the district, and if not met with instant response, sank one of his justly famous private-stock sleeping potions into said crook's masticatory apparatus.

The result is that today only one gang of unregenerates worries the good, stocky priest of the Seamen's Union. It is known as the Tin Can Alley Athletic Club. Its athletics are confined to whatever callisthenic exercises are necessary to the hoisting of copious "slugs" of liquor to the lips, the backacking of drunken sailors and a brisk departure when pursued by the police—or Father Magrath. These athletes are descended from the rig Alley Guards, a similar organization completely routed and disbanded by the almost single-handed operations of the "Fighting priest." They had other affiliations with the Hudson Dusters, an aggregation of humorously inclined young hoodlum-bandits whose favorite pastime was the "beating up" of policemen—when the latter weren't working in pairs. Father Magrath licked seven Hudson Dusters in quick succession and the rest "dusted." Father Magrath is a product of the East Side. He knows well the wants of "his people," and he is now beloved by every seaman of New York's "Harbory Coast." Father Magrath's constant companion is "Bum," a rangy, mongrel dog. Between them they are literally "licking hell" out of West street.

CHRIST ASCENDED AS HE DESCENDED

We Have Erred In Supposing His Flesh Ascended.

Pastor Russell Says the Logos Descended—He Was Made Flesh—Humbled Even Unto Death, Sweat, Hades. He Was Raised From the Dead a Spirit Being—He Ascended as He Descended—Jesus a Quickening Spirit Ascended to Glory, Honor and Immortality—What He Left and More Added Glory.

Detroit, Mich., May 4.—Pastor Russell gave two addresses here today. We report the one on Christ's Ascension. His text was: "Thou hast ascended on High, Thou hast led captivity captive: Thou hast received gifts for men: yea, for the rebellious also, that the Lord God might dwell among them."—Psalm 68:18.

Pastor Russell declared that one of the serious errors engrafted into the Christian faith is the supposition that Jesus is still a man. This wrong thought prevails especially amongst Premillennialists, and helps to turn many away from faith in the premillennial coming of Christ for the blessing of all the world. Many Christians perceive that a reign of Christ in the flesh would be inferior to a spiritual reign. Hence the general rejection of faith in the Second Coming of Christ and the establishment of His Kingdom.

He showed that all Christians firmly believe that Jesus was a spirit being before He came into the world. All believe that a spirit being is of a higher order than a human being, and that Jesus made a great stoop when He laid aside the glory of His prehuman condition to become "the Man Christ Jesus." Man is "a little lower than angels," even in his prehuman condition.

The Pastor declared that surely no Bible student supposes that the Heavenly Father had permanently degraded His Son from a station higher than angels to one below them. Yet many Christians profess to believe this very thing. The ascension of Christ is claimed to prove it. How absurd to suppose that our Lord Jesus, accustomed to spirit conditions, and made flesh for a short period, could be otherwise than discommodated and seriously dishonored by the Father, if He has a body of flesh!

Ascends Where He Was Before.

Mistaken views respecting the word ascend have helped to confuse us. St. Paul, explaining our text, shows that the ascension of Jesus is to be considered in conjunction with His descending. (Ephesians 4:8-11.) He that ascended is the same that descended, thirty-four years before. Did the descending have reference to the kind of body? Surely not! Then the ascending has no reference to the kind of body.

The descending signified the humiliation, the leaving of spiritual glory, to be born of the flesh. The life of the Logos was transferred from the spirit body to the body of the babe, that He might become "the Man Christ Jesus."

Similarly, the begetting of the Holy Spirit came to Jesus at His baptism, and for three and a half years it constituted Him a spiritual Priest, whose work was to "offer Himself." That offering ended at Calvary. When on the third day, the Father raised Him from the dead, it was the Priest who was raised to glory, honor and immortality—not the sacrificed human body. As it is written, "A body hast Thou prepared Me for the suffering of death."

Jesus' sacrifice was finished at Calvary, as He said. He died no more, and therefore has no further use for the body of flesh. What became of it, the Pastor would not undertake to say. It was not seen in the tomb. But the soul, not the body, was raised to life. "Thou wilt not leave My soul in Sheol"—Hades—the tomb.

Why a Body of Flesh Was Used.

We must remember two things, said the Pastor. Followers of Jesus were required to have full faith: (1) That Jesus was the Logos, who had descended from the spirit plane to the human, (2) That He had died sacrificially, and that God raised Him from the dead.

Unless these two points were fully established, they could not continue as Jesus' disciples, acceptable with the Father, and capable of receiving the Holy Spirit. But they could not receive spiritual things until after the spirit-begetting at Pentecost. Hence their instructions must be along earthly lines.

If after His resurrection, Jesus had appeared to them as He did to Saul of Tarsus, what proof would they have had that it was the same Jesus who had died? How could the Message of His resurrection and ascension have been conveyed to their minds? Some ocular demonstration was necessary to constitute a basis for faith. Therefore our Lord demonstrated to His disciples the fact that a great change had taken place.

The disciples were children in the School of Christ, learning a great lesson. To have crowded all lessons upon them at once would have been injurious. So Jesus had said. See John 16:12, 13.

Sporting Briefs of the Week

[By Hal Sheridan]

NEW YORK, May 4.—No better move for the advancement of college rowing could be made than for the Intercollegiate Rowing Association to add to the Poughkeepsie regatta program a race for crews of limited weight, as has been suggested. Rowing is one of the costliest—if not the costliest—of college sports. There are no "big gates" in rowing as there are in baseball and football. It is a sport which requires more of candidates with less opportunities for public performance in contests than any other. Only its cleanliness and in many cases the generosity of wealthy graduates have kept it alive at some institutions. Therefore any move which will tend to popularize it is worthy of fullest discussion and consideration. A limit weight event would undoubtedly draw entries from other colleges and make the Poughkeepsie races more representative. There are four colleges, Brown, Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn., Rutgers and New York University which would send teams to Poughkeepsie if they had a fair show. This does not mean that these institutions will enter only if they can win. It is merely that they can't afford to train a crew of light weight to compete with the heavy crews which Yale, Harvard, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Syracuse are able to select from the wide range of material which their far greater attendance offers. Of course weight is not by any means the whole thing to rowing, but it is as great a factor in rowing as it is in prize fighting—and what would pugilism be without weight classes?

The race is well on and from the way the clubs have been shaping up it looks as if the prophets had the right dope. The teams in both leagues, with the exception of Boston, are just about showing what consensus of opinion said they would show. It's true the Red Sox didn't start like repeating world beaters but Dame Boston isn't worrying and she shouldn't for she has the same remarkable machine representing her that finished ahead of McGraw after a gruelling fight last October. Boston didn't set the pace so very early last year and while a running get-away proves a big handicap, it's comforting to have the bad streak come at the start when you know you have the stuff to retrieve a few early setbacks.

It looks like the mile record is in for a trimming this season for something is bound to crack when two such grand runners as John Paul Jones of Cornell and Norman Taber of Brown, are pitted against each other in the intercollegiate championships on May 31. Both Jones and Taber close their college careers this spring. Taber is admittedly anxious to become undisputed college champion before he takes up his duties at Cambridge as a Rhodes scholar, and Jones is just as anxious to round out his four years of wonderful work as the title holder. That race should be worth going miles to see.

Lawrence Waterbury, Harry Payne Whitney, J. M. Waterbury and Devereux Milburn probably will compose the team which will represent America in the international polo championship matches in June on Long Island. It is the same team which captured the title abroad in 1909 and it is the same team which won so handsily from the Brits over on Long Island two years ago. Whitney and J. M. Waterbury took the rough edges off and hardened themselves by many weeks of hunting last winter. Devereux Milburn always keeps himself fit. Lawrence Waterbury, whose physical condition wasn't of the best two years ago, isn't going to take a chance this year and he has played all winter at racquets, which is anything like a mollycoddle game. "Larry's" winning of the national racquet championships is proof that he went into the game for all he was worth. For the past three weeks the "Big Four" have been playing together and from the way they have gone at it, should have no trouble winning out in any preliminaries which may be played to decide who shall play the English team. It is admitted that they will have to go better this year to win for the Englishmen, profiting by their last failure will this year bring over enough ponies. It was lack of fresh ponies which was one of the greatest factors in their defeat two years ago.

That $100,000 which the two major leagues lost through rainy weather may have had something to do with President Wilson's action in requesting Willis Moore's resignation as chief of the weather bureau. It was officially announced that Professor Moore was "released" because he used federal employees to boost him for secretary of agriculture on government time. Of course, that may be so, but millions of baseball fans are known to have been inimical to Moore for years, because of the poor weather he has frequently dished out to them on big days. The rain and cold furnished for the opening of the season may have had more to do with the ex-weather chief's enforced resignation than the administration at Washington will admit.

It's good to learn from Secretary Tom Davis of the Highlanders that he is not after Ty Cobb. Having bagged Peerless Frank Chance, the New York Americans ought to be satisfied for one season.

BARACA BANQUET

Young Men of First Baptist Church Join in Last Spread in Present Building

Twenty-three young men of the Baraca Class of the First Baptist Church and their guests enjoyed an elaborate banquet last Friday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the church basement. It is probably the last social function of the class in the old church building.

The tables were arranged in the Baraca style and beautifully decorated with white roses and asparagus fern. A Cecil Bruner rose and a sprig of fern adorned each place.

During the course of the banquet it was found that natives of fifteen different states were present. After the supper, with Leslie Pearson as toastmaster, Chas. Lutz, L. P. Hickox, Rev. Mr. Russell and R. J. Hamilton gave pleasing and helpful talks on the Baraca class and its work.

Those for whom covers were laid besides those already named were W. E. Hildwell, Merle Ramsey, E. G. Ramsey, W. O. Packard, A. Marshall, Ralph Shallenberger, Russell Riffe, C. M. Gilbert, W. F. Payne, Lewis Gall, Palmer Lee, W. B. Lockett, J. B. Thomas, Chas. Denver, Elmer Deaver, Clark Baker. The menu was as follows:

Tomato Bullion Crackers
Pickles Preserved Meat
Creamed Potatoes Baked Beans
Brown Bread Buns
Log Cabin Salad
Pie a la Mode Mints Cafe Noir

Conservatory Weekly Recital

About twenty pupils from the departments of the Orange County Conservatory of Music in charge of Miss Gardner and Miss Jessup presented an enjoyable program at the regular Saturday afternoon recital held at the Conservatory Saturday.

Some appeared as soloists, others in duet numbers and a few of the small kindergartners gave demonstrations of their ability to transpose pretty themes and pieces into any desired key.

These weekly musicales are not alone for the pupils and their parents, but the general public is also invited and quite a number of people fond of music frequent these enjoyable affairs.

Played at Los Angeles Recital
Mrs. Arnold Peck, whose piano playing is greatly admired in Santa Ana, played Saturday afternoon at Barker Brothers' recital in Los Angeles. Her numbers were the Schütz-Edler Concert Orchestre and the Blue Danube Waltz, and the Second Movement in Mendelssohn's Tragic Sonata.

To play at the Barker Brothers' recitals is an opportunity taken advantage of by many well known artists, and Mrs. Peck's engagement there indicates recognition of her ability as a piano player.

Ladies' Aid Meeting
The Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church met in the church parlor Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, a large number being present. Among them were several new members. After the business hour, which was spent in sewing, delicious refreshments were served.

The president is very enthusiastic over the new addition to be made to the kitchen and dining room by the building committee. The improvements will be begun in the early fall. The president urged the ladies to do all they could for the proposed additions.

The next meeting will be the last one for the year, and it is hoped a large number will be present.

MUSICAL AFFAIR

Madam Andrist's Pupils Appear in Recital at Home of Mrs. E. A. Hedrick

A very successful musical was held Saturday afternoon by the piano students of Madam G. F. Andrist of the Andrist Academy of Music at the beautiful home of Mrs. E. A. Hedrick, 601 South Birch street. The spacious parlors were fragrant with lovely roses and spring flowers and a happy crowd gathered at 2 o'clock.

Among other numbers on the program were Aubert's Fantasia on the opera "Fra Diavolo," Godard's "Au Matin," "Le Serenade," Intermezzo, "Valse 'Amoreuse'"; Berger: Concerto for Violin by Max Spindler; overture, "Poet and Peasant," by Suppe (duet); melody in F by Rubinstein on the violin by Helen Mang; "Gavotte Moderne" by Severn on the violin by Kenneth Horton, accompanied by Donna Horton.

The program was thoroughly enjoyed by the children playing with easy, good expression and understanding, showing the excellent training they had received at the hands of Madam Andrist.

Delicious refreshments of punch, wafers and home-made candy were served by Mrs. Hedrick's daughter, Mrs. Ethel Rood, assisted by Mrs. Wm. Crissman, Mrs. Herbert Haines and Mildred Heninger. Among the guests were Mrs. H. J. Stevens, Lillian Stevens, Mrs. D. B. Horton, Mrs. Walter Lamb, Mrs. Gregory Harper, Mrs. Emma Baker, Mrs. Bowman, Misses Grace Sears, Ruth Richards, Mrs. Stafford, Mrs. Duhars, Rachel Irwin.

SIMILAR ARMY BILLS OF 2 NATIONS

French Parliament to Consider 3-Year Service Plan Like Gen. Wood Proposed

PARIS, May 5.—When Parliament convenes tomorrow after its Easter vacation of six weeks, the trace between Clemenceau politicians and President Poincaré will most probably come to an abrupt end, and the Barrou cabinet will take its stand upon the firing line in the advocacy of extra millions for army and navy increases. The big issue to come before the Chamber of Deputies will be of deep interest to the United States and will be closely watched by United States representatives here. This is the three-year-service army bill, which is almost identical in general and in detail to the plan proposed by Major General Leonard Wood, of the American army. Another big issue is the proposed hundred million dollar armament increase. A bitter fight is predicted over these measures, though the chances are that they will pass. The Socialists have been extremely busy during the vacation just closing stirring up opposition, and that Jean Suarès, Socialist leader on the floor of the chamber, will bring every atom of his great ability into the battle to defeat the measures is a foregone conclusion. Had the three-year-service bill been submitted to the chamber prior to its vacation, it is declared it would have passed with comparatively little opposition. The reaction against it, however, has set in, it is alleged, and has gained such proportions that it is thought some difficulty may be experienced by the government in securing its passage. Once these measures are disposed of, it is declared that Poincaré's enemies will once more begin their attacks on him through his prime minister, Louis Barthou, whom they will do everything in their power to overthrow as they did Aristide Briand, Barthou's predecessor.

ANNUAL GRAMMAR MAY FETE IS HELD

ANAHEIM: May 5.—Friday afternoon the annual grammar school May Fete was held on the lawn in front of the Fremont school. The pupils and teachers of the grammar schools took part and by their united efforts made it one of the most interesting and entertaining as well as one of the prettiest programs ever given in the city. The large lawn was used as a stage and around this in a semi-circle, a crowd of several hundred spectators was assembled. The program was composed of May pole dances, drills, folk dances, etc., and each number was excellent. Both teachers and pupils deserve great praise for the time and labor they have expended to make the day the success it was.

The following program was given:

Selection—Grammar School Orchestra.

Hans and Gretel (folk dance)—Sound Grade, Mrs. Burgess, teacher.

Highland Fling—Fifth Grade, Miss Schmidt, teacher.

Comin' Through the Rye—First Grade, Alice Grimschaw, teacher.

May Pole Dance—Second Grade, Miss Kellenberger, teacher.

The Flutterer—Fourth Grade, Miss Moritz, teacher.

Selection—Orchestra.

Oxandansen—Sixth Grade, Miss Gardner, teacher.

Hoop Drill—Seventh Grade, Miss Bradley, teacher.

May Pole Dance—Third Grade, Miss Parker, teacher.

Cartas—Eighth Grade, Miss Betz, teacher.

Wand Drill—Fourth Grade, Miss Churchill, teacher.

Orchestra and chorus.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hamler entertained a party of their friends, at a 6 o'clock dinner Friday evening, in honor of Mr. Kurt Epstein, who leaves next week for Lodi, near San Francisco, to take a position with Newfield Bros. The dining room was beautifully decorated in yellow and white. The table decoration was unusually attractive. A large Japanese basket of nasturtiums formed the centerpiece. After a delicious seven-course dinner the evening was pleasantly spent in music and cards.

Springtime!

In the upper Yucaipa Valley brings millions of apple and cherry blossoms, promise of a big crop this year. On account of the 3000 foot altitude the Yucaipa spring comes a few weeks later than in the low lands, and this prevents all damage from late frosts. There is no crop failures in Yucaipa. Even this year you may see the finest barley in Southern California in the upper valley. The eight hundred acres of trees set this spring are already putting forth and the three-year-old trees are full of blossoms. Now is a good time to see this evergreen valley, and the finest development in Southern California and the best opportunity to make money. The very finest kind of land, under irrigation, sold on easy terms, with domestic and irrigating water, and electricity right on the spot, in a fast growing, up-to-date community, at astonishingly low price per acre. And the climate, cool in summer, warm in winter, no destructive winds, no fogs, protected from desert winds by the San Bernadino mountains. Fine nearby market for all products. Churches, schools, library, newspaper, electric light, good roads, hotel, stores, free delivery, water works, telephones, and automobile service all over the valley. Go up and put in a surface crop this season. We make trips every week, by automobile, or railroad. One day trips and you see it all. Only 64 miles from Santa Ana. ## AT THE COURTHOUSE

EXPECTS BIG CROWD THERE

More Remonstrances to Security Protection District Are Put on File

County Clerk Williams believes that there will be a tremendous crowd on hand at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors tomorrow morning. The occasion is the hearing of remonstrances to the petition for the formation of the proposed Security Protection District, planned to build dikes for the Santa Ana river from Yorba to West Orange.

Already several hundred property owners in the district as outlined by the petitioners have signed protests, which have been filed with the county clerk. This morning several more signatures were received from Garden Grove and Berrysdale residents. Attorneys William & Rutan will represent a large section about Garden Grove and Westminster in an endeavor to have lands excluded from the proposed district.

Those favoring the district will be on hand ready to contest for maintaining the district as outlined.

To Settle Title

In order to make certain that the county has complete title to every foot of road proposed to be improved under the county highway plans on the road between Santa Ana and Huntington Beach, proceedings have been commenced with the Board of Supervisors just as though a new road was being opened. Today a petition for a new road was filed. The description is for the road from the city limits on West Fifth street to the city limits of Huntington Beach, following the route mapped for improvement under the highway system. It appears that the procedure must be gone through by the supervisors, and deeds secured where they have not already been given to the public for many years.

Divorce Actions

A suit for divorce has been begun by Lisette Stadelmaier against Louis Stadelmaier, Tipton & Callor of Anaheim. The plaintiff, Iva Mae Gillespie, has brought suit against Eva L. Gillespie for divorce. Randall & Gaines of Los Angeles represent the plaintiff.

Amended Articles

Amended articles of incorporation have been filed by the Section 2 Water Co., which has a pumping plant near Anaheim. The capital stock of $4500 is all subscribed by nineteen irrigators.

Demurrer Filed

Attorney Scarborough & Forgy have filed a demurrer to the suit

CIVICS CLUB ON THE MEXICAN PROBLEM

Speakers Portray Conditions and Suggest Some Remedies; and Suggest Some Remedies;

The Civics Club on Saturday afternoon assembled in the City Hall and considered the Mexican problem of Santa Ana. Speakers informed on the conditions spoke, and the matter was discussed by the club in an effort to reach a solution of the problem. The specific topic for the speakers was "The Mexican from Various Standpoints." The club found that a knotty question was to be grappled with but as in all its endeavors made good work of the matter in Saturday afternoon's discussion.

Mrs. May Clark, one of the teachers of the Spanish children in the Central school, spoke from the educational standpoint. She gave in plain and strong English the needs of this class of pupils. She outlined her work of the past year and told of the mode of Mexican living, as she has been often told. She showed her heart interest in the children entrusted to her care. Mr. Davis, another teacher of the Mexicans, gave his ideas of the problem. He said that while they do all in their power with the girls and boys, something must be done in the homes with the parents. The main theme of all the speakers was the awful curse of liquor. "They get the stuff, but where and how?" is the question asked. Prof. Cranston discussed all phases of the subject as he is capable of doing. Some points which impressed his hearers were these: "If one wishes to find home and do missionary work, it is not necessary to go into foreign lands, but visit the Mexican hovels (not homes) and see for yourself."

"The places are a disgrace to Santa Ana, and clean, sanitary houses should be provided, also work for this class of people, for they are a grateful and appreciative race."

Prof. Cranston further told of the good work being done by the school nurse, Miss Sallie Cartmell, as one of the most important of the school faculty. Rev. Gonzales gave an excellent talk on the subject from a religious view, and gave hints as to how to help better the conditions of the Mexicans. He is very anxious to raise funds to build an addition on the church, where they can have a place to amuse and teach the right ways of living to the boys and men and keep them out of the pool rooms and worse places. The First Methodist people are doing a great work in this mission and it has been suggested that there is an excellent chance now for other denominations to assist.

Mr. Weaver, who is a very fluent speaker both in Spanish and English, presented very practical views of the needs of this people. He has labored as a missionary for fourteen years among them and he can feel and knows more than the American their various habits and wants. Mrs. Francis Watry made a few remarks as to her observations, as she has lived near them many years. Mrs. Lawson of Alhambra told of the work being done in San Gabriel and vicinity and gave some very good suggestions. In order to make an effort to get rid of the liquor trouble, a committee was appointed to confer with Senator Anderson as to what measures can be used. "Why should whiskey be sold to the Mexicans any more than the Indians?" was asked. The committee named to act are Mesdames Anna Hill, P. A. Robinson, E. B. Norman. A vote of thanks was given to the speakers.

Prior to the discussion of the Mexican question the club heard the minutes of the previous meeting, disposed of a few items of business and heard the report of the executive club meeting held at the home of Mrs. P. A. Robinson. It was reported that at that meeting committees were appointed to visit and inspect moving picture shows, also the meat markets, bakeries, groceries, etc. If the owners of the latter places wish the public to know their places are run in a clean, sanitary manner, they can do so through the Civics Club.

Nominating committee for the election of officers are Mesdames Belle Rogers, George Smith, Morrison, Ross and Dobson.

SENATOR BULLA TO HAVE SUMMER HOME AT BALBOA

BALBOA, May 5.—Senator R. N. Bulla has purchased 50x150 feet at the corner of Surf avenue and Distreet at this place and he will soon begin the erection of a summer home. The two new brick blocks being constructed on Main street are rapidly nearing completion.

MUNICIPAL DANCE HALLS OPENED IN CLEVELAND TONIGHT

CLEVELAND, May 5.—Municipal dance halls established in all the great public parks open tonight. Mayor Baker, who led the grand march which inaugurated three-cent dances in Cleveland last summer, will act in a similar capacity tonight. Chaperons have been appointed from among Cleveland's most exclusive society circles, and girls unaccompanied by parents or guardians or escorts after 9 o'clock will have to go home.

GROUND BREAKING FOR CLUBHOUSE FOR SOUTH PASADENA WOMEN

SOUTH PASADENA, May 5.—With spade and shovel some of South Pasadena's best-known women yesterday broke ground for the site of the $10,000 clubhouse to be built at Rollins street and Fremont avenue in the heart of the residence district of the city.

The affair was an event in the annals of the feminine life of the city, for since the founding of the club in 1896 the members have been steadily raising funds for a club home. It will be built in modern chalet style with a large auditorium, reception hall, cloak room, kitchen and dining room on the main floor, and one the second floor a sunny screened porch to serve as reading rooms and bath.

SUFFRAGETTES ON TRIAL; BOMB FOUND

Nitro-Glycerine Sufficient to Blow Building to Atoms in Parcels Post

LONDON, May 5.—The trials of "General" Flora Drummond, Miss Annie Kenney and other militant suffragettes on charges of conspiracy were resumed today. The courtroom and surrounding streets were jammed with sympathizers.

A nitro-glycerine bomb sufficient to blow the building to atoms was found by Southwestern depot porters among the parcels post. Hundreds of lives were jeopardized. Suffragettes are suspected.

WELL STARTED ON THE NEW PAVILION

BAY CITY, May 5.—The excavation for the new pavilion at this place is almost completed. The old pavilion and dance hall is being removed to a new location on Main street, where it will be remodeled for store purposes. Courtney E. Harris is building a six-room bungalow on Sixth street, and H. C. Williams a five-room home close by. The work of grading the streets in the new Bay City addition is going forward rapidly. Purchasers in Bay City this week include John T. Howard, who bought two lots on the corner of Eighth and Central, and Mrs. Alice M. Blumie, who purchased two lots on Tenth street.

The Explanation.
"Booth Tarkington, now that he has returned to novel writing, is more celebrated and more beloved than ever. At the same time—"

The speaker, a magazine editor, chuckled and resumed:
"Imagine my horror when at a tea I heard a young matron, a very pretty and elegant young matron, say:

"Tarkington behaved so abominably at my luncheon. After the oysters he suddenly took a dislike to the butter and the two serving maids, he actually flew at them. He would not let them come near the table. If they ventured to try he growled dreadfully."
"But there was a platter of cold quail on the sideboard that happened to catch Tark's eye. He seized two of the birds and stalked sullenly off with them to the drawing room, where he ate them, seated on the floor. He left the bones scattered all over our best mahogany rug. Did you ever hear of anything so awful?"

Here the magazine editor laughed again.
"It took me a minute or two to grasp the fact, he explained, that this charming lady had named her dog Tarkington in honor of our prose master."

WHAT MINUTES SAY
We are but minutes, little things—
Each one furnished with sixty wings,
With which we fly on our unseen track;
And not a minute ever comes back.

We are but minutes. When we bring
A few of the drops from pleasure's spring,
Taste their sweetness while we may;
It takes but a minute to fly away.

We are but minutes. Use us well;
For, how we are used we must one day tell.

Who uses minutes, has hours to use;
Who loses minutes, whole years must lose.

—Selected.

Natural Suspicion.
The kindly old man stopped to watch a wee tot who was diligently searching the sidewalk for something, and at the same time sobbing loudly.
"What have you lost, little girl?" he finally ventured.

"Boo hoo," came the reply between sobs. "I've lost my nickle."
To the child's grief, the old man extracted a 5 cent piece from his pocket, pressed it into the little tot's palm and said:

"There, there, little girl, here's your nickle. Now stop crying."
To his surprise, the child flashed on him a look of bitter contempt.

"Why, you wicked old man," she said, stamping her tiny foot, "you had my nickle all the time."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Early Days of Trousers
Ancient Britons were among the people whose wearing of trousers was noted by the more civilized ancients who eschewed them. "Braccas" ("breaches") seem to have improved the Roman mind very much as Chinese pikaids did the modern west. Gaul beyond the Alps was at one time known as Gallia Braccata—Trousersland; and Cicero taunts a man with having sprung from "trouserer" ancestors. As Roman ways degenerated, the use of trousers began to creep in, and it is recorded that Alexander Severus wore white ones, previous emperors' trousers having been crimson.

LEGISLATURE ON THE FINAL WEEK

But 2 Important Bills Passed; Faced by Rush of Work; Limiting Debate

SACRAMENTO, May 5.—The fortieth legislature today began what is expected to be the final week of the session. Practically every big measure programmed remains to be passed. Only the anti-alien bill and the red light bill have been enacted, while almost a dozen measures advocated by the administration await passage. These include the water conservation bill passed in the assembly, the workmen's compensation bill passed by the senate, the "blue sky" bill, the mothers' pension bill, the weights and measures bill, the immigration, civil service, minimum wage, and non-partisan election bills. A determined attempt will be made to finish these before Saturday. Every indication is that scores of bills must be lost in the shuffle.

At a conference of the Senate and Assembly leaders, Governor Johnson urged that every effort be made to adjourn the legislature next Saturday. As a result, a five-minute limit on debate has been forced on all except the most important measures.

The Senate passed Senator Boynton's bill creating a state accident insurance fund, and a companion bill to transfer $100,000 from the general fund to the newly created fund. The bills were necessary to carry out the plan incorporated in the workmen's compensation bill passed by the Senate a week ago.

Senator Brown's anti-boxing bill is due for consideration by the senate at 8 o'clock tonight. A long battle is expected. The opponents of the bill are sanguine of its defeat.

During a debate on Senator Anderson's bill compelling transportation lines to furnish toilets on cars operating outside of the limits of incorporated cities, Senator Anderson charged Senator Wright of San Diego with being subversive to railroad interests since becoming a member of the senate.

"That statement is absolutely false," Wright declared. "I want to know whether or not the senator intended it for a joke."

The bill was defeated. By a unanimous vote the senate passed Senator Shanahan's amendments to the political code providing for the direct election of federal senators by the people. The bill now goes to the assembly for approval.

The senate passed Cohn's bill providing that divorce may be granted on the grounds of incurable insanity providing the person cited has been confined in an insane asylum for five years and no decree can be granted where insanity has resulted from an act of the plaintiff or when caused by childbirth.

County officers with few exceptions are to receive fees for services performed but will be paid entirely by salary under Assemblyman Woodley's bill which passed the assembly today, all fees to go to the state. The bill now goes to the senate.

JOHNSON FACES WHITE SLAVERY CHARGES TODAY

CHICAGO, May 5.—Charged with violation of the Mann white slavery act, John Arthur (Jack) Johnson, negro pugilist, once heavyweight champion of the world, today faced Judge Carpenter in the federal court. It was the second time within a period of less than two weeks that the big black had faced a serious charge. On April 23, he was fined $1000 on a charge of smuggling a diamond necklace into this country for his suicide white wife, Etta Duryea Johnson, on whom he laid the blame. The prosecuting witness for the government today was Belle Schreiber, a 21-year-old girl. It was on her testimony that the indictment on which today's trial was based, was secured against Johnson last fall. The indictment charges that Belle Schreiber, when but 18, took the fancy of the negro fighter; that he took her as a traveling companion on trips to Cleveland, Milwaukee, New York, Atlantic City and Pittsburgh; and that the negro's treatment of the young white girl graded from prodigal generosity to low brutality. Johnson's second white wife, formerly Lucille Cameron, of Minneapolis, whom he married despite frantic efforts by the girl's mother to prevent the alliance, was expected to be in court today with her husband.
